HAHN!

The Louisiana Congressman Dead.

And Is Found Prostrate in a Pool of Blood in His Hotel Room.

The House and Senate Adjourn Out of Respect to their Colleague.

WASHINGTON.

The Senate at Work—The House Adjourns.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The senate agreed to a resolution to appoint Rev. J. G. Butler D. D. of Washington, chaplain of the senate.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The president today sent the following nominations to be postmasters: Carbondale, Pa., Joseph Powderly; Athens, Pa., Henry C. Baird; Defiance, O., John M. Heugstler; Danville, Ind., Archibald P. Pounder; North Vernon, Ind., Fred W. Verbaug; Abindon, Ill., C. E. Givens.

HOUSE.

Immediately after the reading of the journal the house adjourned out of respect to the memory of Representative Hahn, of Louisiana.

DOUGLASS AND HIS SUCCESSOR.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The resignation of Frederick Douglass from the office of recorder of deeds for the District of Columbia calls attention once more to this lion of the colored people, who, though in his 70th year, appears as strong and healthy as ever. He can well retire from labor, as he possesses a fortune of about $500,000, and he has a beautiful home surrounded by large grounds on the other side of the Potomac, overlooking Washington. It is the old Van Hook mansion, the home of a noted negro-hater, who, when he divided up his lands for sale, put into every deed a stipulation that the purchaser should in no case sell to a negro. Fred Douglass owns it today, and the whole of the estate, so divided, is dotted with the homes of colored men. Douglass was, you know, a slave, and he fought as a boy with the dogs for the crumbs that fell from his master's table. He has made his money chiefly by lecturing, and by a paper called The North Star, which he used to edit. He got $100 a night lecturing and he invested his money in government bonds and real estate. There is no pleasanter home in Washington than his, and his white wife is a beautiful and accomplished lady.

FREDERICK DOUGLASS.

Mr. Douglass' successor is also a colored man, Mr. James C. Matthews, of Albany, N. Y. He is 38 years old and a very successful lawyer. In 1860 he won a free scholarship in an Albany academy over thirty white boy applicants and graduated from there with great honor, carrying away the first prize and a medal for the best English essay. He is like Douglass, a natural orator, and is regarded as one of the coming leaders of his race. The office to which he is appointed is said to be worth from $8,000 to $10,000 a year.

JAMES C. MATTHEWS.

DEMPEY AND LE BLANCHE

One of the Pluckiest Fights Ever Witnessed.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

NEW YORK, March 15.—What those who witnessed the encounter designate as the greatest middle-weight fight on record was fought yesterday morning at Rye, just on the border line between New York and Connecticut. The contestants were George Le Blanche, of Boston, and Jack Dempsey, of New York. The stakes were $1,000 a side and about $2,000 of a purse made up by certain gentlemen of this city. Jack Dempsey was the winner, thirteen rounds being bitterly contested, and it is declared that a better and more manfully fought fight was never witnessed.

Congressman Hahn Dead.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Ex-Governor Michael Hahn, representative from the second district of Louisiana, died suddenly this morning from hemorrhage of the lungs.

When the fireman at the Willard hotel went to the room occupied by Mr. Hahn at 6 o'clock, to attend to the fire, he was shocked upon finding Mr. Hahn stretched out on the floor dead in a pool of blood. He had died alone from hemorrhage.

Mr. F. H. Bernard, local agent of the Nickel Plate road, has leased the handsome residence just erected by Mrs. Dawson, on East Berry street.

RICH MRS. MORGAN.

She Refused Recognition to Her Sisters, and They Now Inherit Her Wealth.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Civil Service Commissioner Edgerton was talking to me the other day about Mrs. Morgan, whose sale of pictures and bric-a-brac in New York is now attracting so much attention and money. I remember well, when she was a little girl I was her Sunday school teacher. Together with her two sisters, they came every Sunday to my class and said Sunday-school lessons. Then they lived with their father on Dey street in New York. Since that time many things have happened, and I am sorry to say that I am afraid the principles and precepts I tried to impart did not have much weight. After her marriage, when she became wealthy she forgot she had two poor sisters, and went so far as to refuse to speak to them. But there is a retributive justice in it all. She died without a will, and all her money goes to the poor sisters whom she refused to notice in her life. She was a good Sunday-school scholar, but I am afraid the lessons she learned there did not impress themselves on her mind if she refused to know her sisters because they were poor and she was rich.

Suspected Express Robberies.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

CHICAGO, March 15.—Two men suspected of being two of the principals in Saturday's express robbery and murder are under arrest near Joliet, Ill.

CHICAGO, March 15.—The stenographer who took the notes in the cross-examination of the brakeman concerning the express robbery, mysteriously disappeared on his way from the hotel to the office to write out the notes.

The petition of the government employees for pay for over time, and an amendment to the constitution making April 30 instead of March 4 inauguration day were referred and the pension bill for the orphan children and widows of soldiers went over until to-morrow on receipt of news of Mr. Hahn's death.

American Tract Society.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—At the annual meeting of the American Tract society last evening, addresses were made by ex-Justice Strong, Rev. Dr. Robinson, of New York; Senator Harrison, of Indiana, and Rev. Dr. Bartlett. The report shows receipts of $357,205, expenditures of $352,141, leaving a balance in the treasury of $5,064; grants of publications, 37,269; colporteurs employed, 190, and families visited, 154,415.

A Young Man Drowned.

MILWAUKEE, March 15.—Young Sheriff, of the firm of Sheriff & Son, who disappeared last fall and came here from Chicago, and after a week's dissipation dropped out of sight, was found in the river to-day. It is supposed he fell in accidentally.

Parnell's Plea.

By Cable to THE SENTINEL.

DUBLIN, March 14.—Parnell publicly urges the members of the nationalist party in Ulster to refrain from celebrating St. Patrick's day by demonstrations, such as parades, likely to anger the Orangemen.

British Ministers Resign.

By Cable to THE SENTINEL.

LONDON, March 15.—Trevelin, secretary for Scotland, and Edward Henegge, chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, has resigned on account of their disinclination to support the Irish policy outlined by Gladstone.

Cheap Travel.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

ST. LOUIS, March 15.—Yesterday the Union Pacific railway company announced first class tickets between the Missouri river and California for $23, and $12 for second class.

Condition of Hon. W. H. Barnum.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., March 15.—A dispatch from Lime Rock, Connecticut, says that Hon. W. H. Barnum's condition is steadily improving. He has been very sick.

Appropos of the recent London riots,

it may be interesting to recall the fact that the famous Earl of Surrey was once accused before the Privy Council of rioting in London streets and breaking windows with a crossbow. His defense was a singularly ingenious one. "My motive," he said, "was a religious one, though I confess it lies open to misconception. It grieved me, my Lords, to see the licentious manners of the citizens of London. Was I to suffer these unhappy men to perish without warning? Common charity forbade. I therefore went at midnight through the streets and shot from my crossbow at their windows, that the stones passing noiseless through the air and breaking in upon their guilty secrecy might remind them of the evidences of the punishment which the Scriptures tell us divine justice will inflict on impenitent sinners, and so lead them to a reformation of manners."

WHAT WE HEAR.

The News of the Neighborhood Gathered Here.

Mrs. Quinn Evans, of Lafayette, has become hopelessly insane.

William Friedly, father of Judge Friedly, of Madison, died at Scottsburg yesterday.

The little daughter of Nathan Palmer, of Seymour, died of strangulation from a grain of corn which had lodged in her windpipe four days previous.

Willie Heinbaugh, the son of a well-known citizen of Colburn, Tippecanoe county, lost an eye by sticking a knife in it while playing mumble peg.

A four-year-old daughter of Hon. John Kennedy, of Paragon, Morgan county, died yesterday from the results of a scalding occasioned by the upsetting of a kettle.

A petition is being circulated for the pardon of Joshua T. Roseberry, formerly of Lafayette, who was sentenced for forgery to five years imprisonment in the northern prison.

A. B. Kirkpatrick, of Kokomo, has been nominated for prosecuting attorney for the thirty-sixth judicial circuit, composed of Howard and Tipton counties, by the republicans.

Alfred Carpenter, a farmer, brooding over financial embarrassment, deliberately blew his brains out. He resided on Ryker's Ridge, four miles east of Madison. He leaves a widow and three children.

The postoffice at Greenfield and the dry goods house of C. M. Jackson were set on fire yesterday morning. The postoffice was seriously damaged, and the building was made a wreck. Loss, $1,000; insured.

The material for $5,000 blouses will soon be received at the quartermaster's depot, Jeffersonville, and the work of making them up given to the sewing women of Jeffersonville and New Albany, among whom $3,750 will be paid out.

David Shakes, charged with administering a drug to Miss Amanda London, of Lake Maxinkuckee, on the 12th of November, was found guilty and sentenced to three years in the prison north. Miss London came near dying from the effects of the medicine.

Indiana men are prominent in Dakota. G. C. Moody, one of the senators-elect, will be remembered as the member of the legislature who challenged Horace Heffron to fight a duel in Kentucky just before the war, and Governor Mellett is an Indiana product, having also served in the legislature.

The Madison county commissioners have appointed Mr. Thomas Boland janitor of the court house for a period of five years for $1,025 per year. There were several bids presented for the work, all of which were from $300 to $600 lower than Boland's, and hence an attempt will be made to overcome the contract.

Mr. Sparks, an old gentleman living near Charlestown, in packing up his household property found a number of partly filled medicine bottles, and thinking they would be broken, he poured the contents into a glass and drank the mixture. He soon became unconscious, and it took the doctors ten hours to resuscitate him. He is now in a very critical condition.

Samuel Archer, one of the famous Archer gang of Martin county, has been captured eight miles south of Hillsboro, where he was working in a sawmill. He knew nothing of the lynching of his brothers. He was going under the name of Buffington. He was taken to the jail at Covington. He declares that he knows of the crimes of his family, but took no part in them.

The Indiana attorney Friday gave an opinion that the mortgage of property to the college fund has no right to redemption if the property has been forfeited to the state for non-payment of interest and sold for principal and interest by the auditor and treasurer of the state at public sale. The state authorizes redemption if sold under a judgment decree or other judicial proceedings. The case does not come under this statute.

Sarah Hassett and Joseph Heffner, employed at Myers' restaurant in Logansport, were literally burned up before departing for forty and fifty horrified spectators Saturday. The woman was filling a gasoline stove with oil from a pitcher, when it exploded, saturating her clothing and that of Heffner. They ran into the street, flames ten feet high streaming above their heads. They ran for three minutes and at last sank exhausted to the ground, when they were dragged and placed under a pump spout. Neither can live.

GRAHAM

Again Makes a Biblical Confession.

Dempsey and Le Blanche Have the Nearest and Hardest Glove Fight on Record.

THE GRAHAM TRAGEDY.

A Remarkable Biblical Confession Made by the Springfield, Mo., Wife-murderer.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., March 15.—On the third day of this month George Graham, the alleged wife-murderer, asked the sheriff for a bible, in which he marked the following passages, indicating the order in which they should be read, as given below. It shows considerable ingenuity and a close familiarity with the Scriptures, and if the reader will borrow a Bible and follow the directions he will have an entertaining story:

Ecclesiastes, third chapter, verses 1 to 9, inclusive, and verse 22.

Ecclesiastes, seventh chapter, verses 25, 26 and 27.

Acts, twenty-seventh chapter, verses 1, 6, 12 and 18.

Acts, twenty-fourth chapter, verses 13, 31, thirty-first Psalm, verses 12, 13, 21.

Seventeenth Psalm, verses 12, 13, 14.

Proverbs, sixth chapter, verses 26, 34, 35.

Proverbs, seventh chapter, verses 21, 22, 23, 26, 27.

Proverbs, fifth chapter, verses 15, 2, 20.

To those who are familiar with the generally accepted theory of the murder this will be accepted as a confession of the crime, and a reproach to the women through whose machinations it is believed he was driven to the deed.

The examination of Mrs. Molloy and Cora Lee has as yet developed no striking incident. David Anderson, a neighbor, testified that Cora evidenced much uneasiness when Busse and two constables approached her house, and that she concealed a revolver under her apron and went out to the gate. The progress made was slow, as the prosecution is moving deliberately and with caution, with a determination of driving home every point and clinching it. The state insists on hovering around the well, and notwithstanding the topic seems repulsive to the defense, with but one exception no witness has yet been allowed by the state to leave the stand without a repetition of the details of the pitiable story that was woven out of the starting revelations given up by the gloomy cavern on the Molloy farm on the 25th of last month. It is determined that no incident, however, apparently trivial to a public awaiting with impatience the result, shall be lost in the summary of evidence which the prosecution is confident will culminate in holding the women to answer before the grand jury to the complaint upon which their present arraignment is based.

TOLEDO NEWS.

The Orphan Boys—The Big Fire.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

COLUMBUS, March 15.—Governor Foraker sent a message to the legislature to-day stating that the boys of the Toledo house of refuge, which was burned Saturday, would be transferred to Lancaster to-morrow morning, and calling attention to the necessity of some immediate provisions for their care and future support.

The mills of the Toledo Linseed Oil company burned down last night. One hundred barrels of naphtha exploded and burned Frank Langmore and William Kirkham, spectators, very severely. The total loss to the oil works, including the Yaryan company's losses, is $130,000. Other losses, $10,000; insurance, $80,000.

A Bad Steamship Collision.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

NEW YORK, March 15.—The British steamer Oregon, formerly of the Guion and latterly of the Cunard line, from Liverpool and New York, was run into by a schooner between three and 4 o'clock while east of Five Islands, having two holes stove in her. Part of her passengers were transferred to a pilot boat and part to a schooner, and subsequently all were transferred to the steamer Fulda. The Oregon was entirely abandoned and sunk at 1 p. m. Sunday. All of the passengers and crew were saved.

One of the sailors of the Oregon said that immediately after the collision the bulk of the sailing vessel was seen drifting slowly by on port side of the steamer, grazing her sides as she passed astern. It was thought that she sank as soon as she cleared the Oregon, and as none of her crew are on the Fulda, he presumed they had all been drowned.

A BIG SUIT.

Mrs. Catherine E. Cutler Sues L. M. Jones for a Clean $30,000.

Catherine E. Cutler, through her attorneys, Morris & Barrett, this morning filed suit against L. M. Jones, Emma A. Jones, Owen E. Hill and Wilson B. Payne for $30,000. The complainant is now a resident of Logansport. Her maiden name formerly was Catherine Lasselle. She was the wife of Thomas Meegan, deceased.

The complaint alleges that while agent for Mrs. Cutler, Mr. Jones induced the lady to convey almost all of her property to Mrs. Jones, and Hill and Payne, who afterward transferred the real estate to Jones, or, at least, the most of it. For this property Mrs. Cutler received no consideration and the proceedings now are to declare a trust, set aside the alleged fraudulent conveyance and otherwise compel Mr. Jones to render an account of his stewardship to Mrs. Cutler. Judge O'Rourke ordered the defendants to appear before Morris & Barrett from day to day and be examined in the case. The Judge also made the real estate of the defendants subject to all future judgments in the cause. The property involved includes some of the Jones and Hill additions.

POLICE COURT.

An Old Time List of Offenders Before His Honor.

Police court looked itself again this morning and Mayor Muhler smiled on the assembly. The roll call proceeded this way:

Felix Lordier, Academy station, drunk; bailed out for $11.

Robert Hamilton, bar tender and fish man; jail.

Wm. Kaylor, driver for James Ryan, drunk; jail.

Henry Brown, recently from prison, drunk; jail.

Thomas Marshal, a mere kid and devil at the Newspaper union, drunk. Let go for swearing against Geistdorfer, who sold him liquor. Geistdorfer was arrested.

Michael Chambers was fined for drunkenness.

Louis Thompson and Minnie Small, arrested by Officer Humbrecht in a Clinton street harem, were represented by cash, which they put up and forfeited. The man is Louis Horstmeyer and the woman's name is Hamm. Her father lives in the country and the name is familiar since the famous Hamm-Romine case.

A Lively Mill.

A scene not announced in the papers occurred in an old ice house in the eastern portion of the city near White's spoke factory yesterday morning. About 10 o'clock two young men named John J. Voilro and William Pranger with numerous backers and friendly admirers gathered at the above named place where a ring was hastily improvised and the boys put on soft gloves, governed by Marquis of Queensbury rules, and with George Treniman as referee, went at it with the intention of seeing who was the "best man." Twelve rounds were fought at which the "mill" was decided in favor of Voilro on a foul from the other contestant. Both boys were pretty well used up, but it was conceded that Pranger got the worst of the fight.

Real Estate Transfers.

Olds Bros., real estate agents, room No. 8, Foster block, report the following recorded real estate transfers:

Elizabeth Munch to Perry A. Randall, by warranty deed, lot 151 Northside addition, for $600.

Cerena Anna Miller to Allen and Warren Hartzell, by warranty deed, part of section 11 Adams township, for $800.

Jacob Sigler to John W. Dunten, by warranty deed, 40 acres in section 20, Perry township, for $760.

Gives His Views on the Great Strike.

The Company is no More Able to Redress the Grievance than The Strikers.

Developments in the Railroad Controversy To-day—No Settlement so Far.

ALL OPEN

The Texas Pacific Ready for Business.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

GALVESTON, Texas, March 15.—A special to the News from Dallas says: "Receivers Brown and Sheldon have received notice from the United States marshal that the Texas Pacific railroad is now open from end to end."

ANOTHER ATTEMPT.

ST. LOUIS, March 14.—The company will again make an attempt to renew its freight traffic to-day. The suburban accommodation trains departed and arrived on time this morning. The engineers have already expressed their intention of standing at their posts when so ordered until they become convinced they go out at their own risks. The firemen have been instructed to do the same.

JAY GOULD TALKS.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 14.—Jay Gould says: "The present strike is made up of an issue with which we have nothing to do and which we cannot possibly arbitrate or control. It originates in the discharge of an employee named Hall, on the Texas and Pacific, which road is in the hands of the United States court. We have no more right to attempt to control the workings of that system than the workmen themselves and we would be as completely in contempt to do so as any other outsider. It is our intention to resume operations as soon as the protection of the civil authorities is offered."

A NEW MAN ASSAULTED.

ST. LOUIS, March 15.—Five strikers assaulted a new switchman in the Missouri Pacific yards this morning, and knocked him senseless. One was arrested.

GONE TO WORK.

DOWNING, Kas., March 15.—Striking Knights of Labor on the Central Branch of the Union Pacific railway have accepted the company's terms and returned to work.

The Studabaker Strike.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., March 15.—Studabaker Brothers have issued a card to the public, giving the history of the strike, their reasons for not making a general increase in wages, and announcing that the whistles will be blown March 29th for a resumption of work. All employees are invited to return. The pay-roll will be revised, and wages increased where justice demands it.

George Gould's Bride Elect.

While Jay Gould and his family are off on a pleasure trip on board his yacht Albatross, George, the eldest son, has been left at home to look after his father's affairs. He is a well built, handsome fellow of about 29 years. Now Dame Rumor has it that he has been paying considerable attention to an actress of Mr. Daly's theatre, and the couple are engaged. George has been for ten years very much sought after by the young ladies in upenderton, but he seems to have cautiously kept aloof from them. He has always taken a fancy for theatrical matters. His father recognizing this, gave him Jim Fisk's celebrated theatre, the Grand opera house, which he still owns and manages. So it was not a surprise to any of his friends to learn that he had fallen in love with Miss Edith Kingston, one of the prettiest and most refined of the ladies upon the New York stage. She may yet be one of the wealthiest women in America. Mr. Gould's income now is over $6,000,000 a year. This will increase to a fabulous amount in time, and in the natural order of things George will inherit the bulk of it.

John Stoner, an old millwright, formerly well off, died at his home on High street, this morning, aged seventy-four years.

EDITH KINGSTON.

COMMON SENSE IN LAFAYETTE.

Lafayette, Ind., shares with twenty-three other cities and towns in the United States, the distinction of being named after the great French patriot who did so much for this country and his own, but it is alone in the honor of being mentioned in the Encyclopedia Britannica. Life in the lively pushing city on the Wabash, with its many cozy homes, fine public buildings and general air of prosperity and enterprise, is very pleasant, and recently many of its citizens felt that it has assumed new charms since rheumatism has been robbed of its terrors.

This great benefactor, however, is not one which rejoices this particular Lafayette alone, but it has been given to other Lafayettes as well, and to the world. Athrophoros is the magic remedy which drives away rheumatism and neuralgia, and Lafayette has only shown its characteristic enterprise in recognizing the new cure's many virtues. Among those whom it has benefited is Mrs. Francis Heath, of No. 79 Ferry street, an old resident and the mother of banker Heath. In answer to one who recently called on her to tell the facts in the case she gave this account:

"I have had rheumatic pains in my feet for a number of years. They afflicted me at times so that it was with much difficulty that I could walk, especially in going down stairs. Athrophoros was first recommended to me by Bishop Bowman. I did not get it at that time, but kept trying other medicines. It was again recommended to me by a lady. I took a dose, and it seemed to me as if I could feel it go through my system until it came directly to the sore spot. It felt just as a little stream of water looks when during its course it comes in contact with a pebble. One or the other must give way. The water may run around the stone, but that was not the way Athrophoros did. It did not go around the pain, but drove it away. The relief was almost instantaneous. While I am getting along in years and cannot expect to get rid entirely of these pains at once, yet a small dose of Athrophoros in a little cream—the way in which I find most pleasant to take it—relieves the pain immediately."

Mr. Baldrige, who is in the real estate and insurance business at No. 94 South Third street, and who lives at No. 17 North Sixth street, happening to be passing while Mrs. Heath was speaking, he called him in and he gladly told how he had been cured of rheumatism by Athrophoros.

"I was just about to start down to my office one morning last winter," he said, "when a terrible pain took me right in the hip and then ran down the sciatic nerve as quick as lightning. It was with much pain and distress that I managed to get down to my office at all. My business being such that it was necessary for me to be in the office every day, I was obliged to hobble along and get there the best I could. I suffered for some time in this way, trying all kinds of remedies, but nothing seemed to check the disease until I commenced using Athrophoros. The first four doses gave me relief. I only used one bottle, and am perfectly well, as you see me now. I have never had any return of the pain since I took the Athrophoros."

If you cannot get ATHROPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it direct from the druggist, but if he has not it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHROPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

OFFICIAL PAPER COUNTY AND CITY.

MONDAY, MARCH 15, 1886.

The republicans had better send Senator Edmunds to the White Mountains. He is politically indisposed since Senator Kenna handled him.

MAJOR KIDD is at Wabash and tells his friends there that he will certainly be seated by congress. The major will immediately return to Washington to watch his case.

The democratic congressional committee of the eleventh district will meet at Marion, Ind., Tuesday, March 23rd, for the purpose of selecting a time and place of holding the congressional convention, and apportioning the delegates to said convention.

WHAT the country needs is fewer strikes and more arbitration. The spectacle of 51,000 men striking for higher wages at this season betokens no prosperity to the nation, besides these labor revolts are instituted by quarrelsome agitators and their history is that some wise heads must finally interfere and arbitrate their grievance.

GLADSTONE, as a young man, was not overestimated by Disraeli, who wrote in a letter in February, 1845, and now first published, that Gladstone's address was dull and ineffective, and that he might come to be somebody, but he did not think so. He also writes of a dull dinner party at which "young Gladstone" was present; but there was an excellently cooked swan, stuffed with truffles, which, according to Disraeli, was "the best company there."

EX-PRESIDENT ARTHUR will be sued for $7,463.71, the amount of his shortage while collector of customs at New York. Ex-Senator Conkling demanded the papers pertaining to Mr. Arthur's removal at the time, but Senator Sherman, then secretary of the treasury, indignantly refused to give them, as they were "private documents." Now the senator has changed his elastic mind, and scorns Mr. Cleveland for withholding similar information. What a precious piece of republican consistency this is?

The republicans need not weary themselves too much about civil service in the democratic ranks. The law will be observed by democratic officials as fast as they can resign to the tribunals that created them. Col. C. A. Zollinger resigned to the district committee Friday and Wm. Kaough will resign to the county committee when it convenes. It is not expected nor permitted that these gentlemen ignore their places and cripple the party organization until their successors are named. It is unreasonable to demand it.

The state treasurer has issued circular letters to county treasurers asking them to send in all the money in their possession coming to the state at once, instead of waiting until the May settlement it being necessary to thus anticipate the revenues to meet current and coming expenses. Deputy Treasurer Connor says that the state's revenues now exceed its usual expenses about $50,000 each year, and unless the coming legislatures make unusual appropriations the state should be able to pay off its entire indebtedness ($1,695,000) from its savings from year to year without extra charge.

A HINDOO priest writes to the Fort-nightly Review, complaining that the material benefits which British rule is conferring upon India do not compensate for the uprooting of the old, fair life, which have followed. Morality, he declares, is utterly vanishing in consequence. In pathetic language he goes on to say that idolatry to him and many of his friends is merely "traditional symbolism" useful to simple-hearted devotion; and that when British missionaries assert the Hindoo mythology to be "mere imagination," and the gods themselves to be "nothing but fanciful creation," "we," he adds, "of the priesthood can only reply mournfully that we have known it for years and felt the divinity to be but shadows and signs of the incomprehensible—a mere fantastic mystery play." When this comes to an end, he asks what basis for an ethical system will be left.

An exhibition is now being held in Copenhagen of the articles of use and ornament brought from East Greenland by Lient, Holm, who was the first white man to become acquainted with the Eskimos of that region, where he spent last winter. It is related of these people that when one is seriously ill he consents, if his relatives request it, to throw himself into the sea. In cases of lunacy the patient is put to death. From this custom and the general hard-ship persons over sixty years of age are rare. In general, these people resemble those of Western Greenland, and speak a similar language.

A LITERARY Englishman has just found in the old South Street Cemetery in Calcutta the tomb of the Hon. Rose Whitworth Aylmer, who died in that city in 1800, aged 20. It was the news of this English girl's death which led Lander to write a little poem so exquisite that it can never be printed too often:

"Ah, what avails the accepted race,
Ah, what the form divine!
What every virtue, every grace,
Rose Aylmer, all were thine.

"Rose Aylmer, whom these wretched eyes
May weep, but never see,
A night of memories and of sighs
I consecrate to thee."

"CAMELIAS are coming back into general use for personal adornment and decorative purposes in society," says a prominent florist. "It is a good thing for society, too, on the point of economy, for the camellia is much cheaper than the rose. There are a hundred and fifty varieties, some of them of the most exquisite shades. They keep their freshness and color longer than any other flower. Their lack of perfume makes them especially desirable for large entertainments, for the odor of dying flowers in a crowded room tends to make many people ill. The flower has, besides from abroad inform me, become the rage in London. The Princess of Wales has set the fashion. At a reception she wore camellias in her bosom and in her hair. Of course, being the vogue in England, it is not singular that the flower is being taken up here."

THREE REASONS

Why every one needs, and should take Hood's Sarsaparilla in the spring:

1st: Because the system is now in its greatest need. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives strength.

2d: Because the blood is sluggish and impure. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies.

3d: Because, from the above facts, Hood's Sarsaparilla will do a great amount of good now more than any other time. Take it now.

Work upon the government building at New Albany will be commenced May 1. The government has purchased and paid for a site.

All Played Out.

"Don't know what ails me lately. Can't eat well, can't sleep well. Can't work, and don't enjoy doing anything. Ain't really sick, and I really ain't well. Feel all kind of played out, somehow. That is what scores of men say every day. If they would take Dr. Pierce's 'Golden Medical Discovery' they would soon have no occasion to say it. It purifies the blood, tones up the system and fortifies it against disease. It is a great anti-bilious remedy as well."

Stone setting on the new state house will soon recommence.

The universal verdict: "The Hop Plaster is the best porous plaster ever made." Only 25 cents.

In the Dear Old Days.

We differ in creed and politics, but we are a unit all the same on the desirableness of a fine head of hair. If you mourn the loss of this blessing and ornament, a bottle or two of Parker's Hair Balsam will make you look as you did in the dear old days. It is worth trying. It is the only standard 50c article for the hair.

Just arrived at Mrs. J. Baltes, 30 West Main street, a full line of spring millinery goods; also, a full line of French pattern hats.

THE Boston Transcript submits this as a genuine boy's composition: "What a pleasant place a theater is for instance a business man in the business world to drop into and join another world of wrapture and delight with rays of perfect sunshine gazing on beautiful woods green fields and imagine your very nostrils are filled with the fragrance of flowers when in reality it is a cold winter's day in January the winds whistling around the building making the windows pains clatter you do not mind and you are so absorbed with the world within listing to love passion and despair you do not think of anything but the play and for two hours your business cares are gone thus it is at the Makodo. How many people enjoy themselves in seeing a good play."

Geo. W. Earhart, captain of police, Baltimore, Md., said: "I have used Salvation Oil and found it a most excellent remedy. It has my hearty recommendation."

BREAKFAST.

"It is a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the first principles of good cooking, Mr. Epps has produced our breakfast food, which is a delicately flavored beverage which may save many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure food and a properly nourished frame."

will have work in the first and second
degrees to-night.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Anderson will celebrate the fifty-eighth anniversary of
their marriage April 15th.

Col. Sam B. Sweet, of the Wabash,
and S. A. Wickle, of the Muncie, were registered at Indianapolis hotels Saturday.

Miss Eva Harter, favorably known
here, sings the part of "Yum Yum" in
the "Mikado" to be produced at Wabash
March 17 and 18.

R. A. Van Fleet has resigned as night
ticket clerk at the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne
and Chicago depot here. He is succeeded by Frank Cissel, of Indianapolis.

Architect Lane, of Cleveland, was here
yesterday submitting plans for St. Mary's Catholic church. No plans have been selected, as Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger
has examined none.

The cottage meeting of the R. R. Y.
M. C. A. will be held on Tuesday evening at the residence of R. Hamilton, 91 Williams street. Everybody in the vicinity cordially invited.

"Mrs. W. D. Lang is visiting her sister, Mrs. Brown, at Fort Wayne.—Mrs.
L. Fisher and daughter Carrie, of Fort Wayne, are the guests of Mrs. D. Kahn,"
says the Indianapolis Times.

Albert Baker, who is confined in the Lafayette county jail for bigamy, is a raving maniac, and makes the night hidden with his howls. He is alleged to have a wife living near Fort Wayne.

Rev. S. B. Shaw, editor of the Michigan Holiness and Mrs. Cook, of Chicago, are conducting a lively revival at the Princess rink. They held an open air
meeting at the artesian well yesterday
afternoon.

A wreck occurred on the Nickel Plate
at Hammond, a suburb of Chicago, Saturday, by some cars jumping the track.
A car load of oil was demolished and it
took the wreck train five hours to clear
the track.

Ex-Sheriff Vint O'Donnell, of Peru,
who is in the employ of the Wabash
road, while unloading some car wheels
at the Peru shops, was caught by a wheel falling from a car and had his leg
broken near the knee.

Wm. Kaough has resigned as inspector of the second precinct of the First ward and the county commissioners have
appointed Chris Kramer in his place.
Henry Kammeyer has succeeded George Philabaum, deceased, as inspector in
first precinct of Washington township.

Judge Hancock this morning divorced Lulu Enyart from Ira Enyart. The people lived at Auburn and Elkhart but
Lulu is now an inmate of the Oliver house.
She is rather pretty and a fur collar encircled her familiar neck and traced the edges of a brown cloak to her toes.
Bachelor lawyers hung about the court
and the judge blushed.

The circuit court jury is called for
next Monday.

T. E. Ellison left Saturday evening
for Washington, D. C.

Sebastian Eutrodocher and Elizabeth
Yost have been licensed to wed.

R. B. Rossington was at Kendallville
over Sunday and returned to-day.

A social will be given at the Trinity
M. E. church on the evening of March 19.

The men at the Olds wagon and
wheel works got their pay for the month
of February, to-day.

Mrs. Tim Kelly, of the Sixth ward,
was stricken almost dead Saturday, but
the doctors revived her with great difficulty.

"G. W. Lahr, of Warren township, a student at Fort Wayne college, was in the city to-day," says the Huntington Herald.

Everybody rides free on the Wabash
since the arrival of a handsome boy baby
at the home of George W. McConnell,
the clever ticket agent.

Manager O. L. Perry has a snow
white poodle and has christened the pet
"Mercedes." Perry is now the greatest dude on earth and his canine is already celebrated.

There is a statute which permits the
county commissioners to allow cattle the
freedom of any locality in the county
they may think best. It is a sort of local option, but little attention is paid
to it here.

Wodiska, the Austrian tragedian,
opens half a week's engagement at the Academy to-night. The first play will be "Lady of Lyons" and will be followed
by "Hamlet," "Fool's Revenge," "Marble Heart" and others.

"C. L. Hill, of Fort Wayne, was in town again yesterday in the interest of
the George Steck & Co. piano. This firm was awarded the gold medal at the Vienna exposition over the Chickering
and Steinway makes," says the Wabash
Plain Dealer.

The Long telephone, manufactured at Washington is being sold in this state
for $45. It was tested at Lafayette and
people talked plainly fifty miles apart.
This instrument is replacing the Bell
telephone and at Lafayette the citizens
are taking hold of the enterprise.

Speaking of Pottitzer Bros. getting a car load of bananas at Fort Wayne, the Lafayette Courier adds: "This has got to be a common occurrence since this enterprising firm opened out in Lafayette. Fort Wayne people will get used to this after Pottitzer Bros. have been
with them for a while."

Byron W. Orr, business manager of Benton's "Silver Spur," which is to play
a week's engagement at the Academy,
commencing March 22d, is in the city,
and called on THE SENTINEL. The "Silver Spur" is one of the comedy hits of the season, and is from the pen of Scott Marble. It is booked at the Chicago
Criterion all this week.

The supreme court has denied the
motion for a rehearing in the State vs.
John Anderson. Anderson is a Fort
Wayne boy sent up from Noble county
for an alleged indecent assault on a girl
widow from Fort Wayne during the progress of a picnic at Rome City. Anderson is now in the prison north. His mother and brother live here.

The pay car of the Pittsburg, Fort
Wayne and Chicago railway arrived at Alliance on Saturday evening. Gottlieb Bare, a track laborer, drew his month's wages and started home. He was met by tramps, who gave him a terrible beating
with coupling pins, and then robbed him.
He was found insensible and taken home
where he now lies with no hopes of his recovery.

John F. Miller, general superintendent of the Pennsylvania lines west of
Pittsburg, the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne
and Chicago excepted, is with his family
in Texas, in the very heart of the railroad strikes. While he may teach the Texan railway managers how to handle
strikers, he will hardly go so far as to
run one of their engines, as he did for
the Panhandle, when the strike of the Pennsylvania company was on hand.

"A Fort Wayne saloon keeper has reduced the price of whisky from ten to
five cents a drink and beer from five to
three cents per glass. In advertising
these reduced prices of the staple stimulants the aforesaid saloonist dubs himself 'the workingman's friend,' which is
a very inconsistent title, considering the business he is engaged in. The man who sells beer and liquor even at the reduced
figures quoted, is far from being a true
friend of the workingman," says the Wabash Courier.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Pennsylvania road, a resolution directing the incoming managers
to enter into negotiations with the Central Transportation company looking to
the acquiring of the rights and property
of said company, that the profits from running sleeping and parlor cars may accrue to the shareholders of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, was referred to the incoming board. Resolutions
instructing the managers to conduct the
express and telegraph business, instead
of depending on other companies, was laid on the table.

The Wodiska party carries its own
special scenery.

in session this week.

Gart Shober assumes the city editor-
ship of the Journal to-night.

"Lady of Lyons" at the Academy tonight with Edward Wodiska as Claude Melnotte.

Willie, the little son of Mr. and Mrs.
Ben Noll, is rapidly recovering from a severe illness.

Miss Sadie Churchill, a very pretty girl, will sing, a leading part in the
"Naïad Queen."

Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger goes to Muncie St. Patrick's day and lectures
there in the evening.

Mr. P. C. Fisher has been appointed receiver in the case of Root vs. Fry, involving some property.

The "Devil's Auction" company
opened at McVicker's theatre, Chicago
for a week, beginning last night.

Deputy Sheriff Wise is selling the
bankrupt stock of Charley Reese. Mr.
John Hance is clerk of the sale.

Louisa E. Cass sues Wm. Cass to force the appointment of a receiver for some of the Godtry property. Hon. W.
G. Colerick filed the suit.

The members of the St. Patrick's benevolent society are requested to meet in their room promptly at 8:30 a. m., on the morning of St. Patrick's day.

Sneak thieves stole $14 from N. P.
Stockbridge, and $3 from Conrad Piep-enbrink, the shoe man, Saturday. One man engaged the proprietor while the
other robbed the cash drawer.

Mr. C. B. Woodworth and son, Master Bennie, returned yesterday from Texas. Mrs. Woodworth and baby are still in the south and will not return
until the railroad strike is settled.

The indications for the lower lake
region, as reported by the weather
bureau at Washington to THE SENTINEL,
are as follows: Cooler, followed by
warmer weather, with rain or snow.

Belle Boyd lectured at the Academy
last night to a small crowd. The lady had numerous callers at the Avenue
house yesterday and is the mamma of a precocious kid who got into a peck of
trouble about the hotel.

The Order of Railway Conductors,
which has a membership of some twenty
thousand, under its by-laws does not allow conductors to take part in strikes. A member so doing is subject to expulsion.
The insurance association connected with
this order is becoming a grand affair for making large insurances at small expense.

"There appeared an item in the Rec-
of Tuesday, March 9, copied from the
Fort Wayne Journal stating that S.
Goldman, who formerly ran a clothing
store in that city, had started one with the same name in Toledo. This is incorrect, as Goldman Bros. never had any connection with a store in Fort Wayne,"
remarks the Toledo Bee.

The efforts of the Pennsylvania Railroad company to establish a relief fund
among its employes has not been successful. The failure apparently arises
from two causes: First, the jealousy of
the men of any infringement of their liberty, and second, owing to an unreasonable fear that the company would in
some way get the best of them.

The "Devil's Auction" company gave
a fine show at the Temple Saturday
night. The performance was without a fault and Manager Yale put every bit of scenery on the stage, making the grand-
est picturesque sight ever witnessed
here. There are fifty people in the party and they travel in special cars.
There were few ladies at the show, although at Grand Rapids for two nights
they looked to see the "Auction."

The recent decision of the supreme court does not affect the title of the Wabash and Erie canal, as the item from
the Indianapolis papers inferred, but in the words of the decision simply says that
the state did not directly or indirectly
sell bridges erected over said canal for public use, and such bridges were not appurtenances to the canal, and where
it is destroyed, the county may rebuild
such bridge on its former location, and
use the stones in the piers and abut-
ments for that purpose.

The shipments of grain, flour and provisions from Chicago, to eastern through stations by the pool lines during the
week ending Saturday, March 13,
amounted to 32,682 tons, against 45,214
tons during the preceding week, a decrease of 12,532 tons, and against 66,675
tons during the corresponding week of 1885, a decrease of 34,043 tons. The Nickel Plate carried 1,836 tons and the
Pittsburg and Fort Wayne road 3,818,
although the latter road was awarded
20.2 per cent. of the business.

The county commissioners have established the Leudemuth ditch in Scipio and Maumee townships, the Lamby ditch in Lake township and Baker ditch No. 1 in Monroe township. These ditch matters
are under consideration: M. A. Johnson
et al., petition for ditch in Eel River
township; R. H. Newhaus et al., petition
for ditch in Washington township; Louis
Berthand et al., petition for ditch in Jackson township; J. K. Edgerton and
W. W. Carson, petition for ditch in Jackson and Maumee townships.

Mrs. Mary Jordan died at the post
house.

Miss Annie White left to-day for Hamilton, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dreier are visiting friends at Madison, Ind.

Miss Harriet Benton, of East Wayne
street, is visiting at Toledo.

Two children of James Summers, now
ill with diphtheria, are recovering.

A child of Wm. Hener, of 92 Oliver street, will be buried to-morrow afternoon.

James Lichey, a vicious boy, was committed to the state reform school
to-day.

Michigan City has closed a contract for the Indianapolis Jenney electric light.
The company puts up a forty-light
plant for $7,500.

Mr. W. R. Spencer, of Hannibal, Mo.,
is in the city being instructed by the Jenney Electric Light company, preparatory to taking charge of a plant in Hannibal.

Charles Stein was arrested to-day for tampering with the affections of Bertha Gust. Stein wanted to wed Bertha, but
she wouldn't have it, and he went to jail
in default of $300 bail.

Henry Laner has sued the Pennsylvania Railroad company for $10,000 damages for injuries received in the service of the corporation. Hon. W. G.
Colerick is counsel for Mr. Laner.

John W. Jacobs, the boot and shoe merchant, has purchased the Henry Rud-isill farm, just north of the city near the French brewery. Mr. Jacobs will occupy
the suburban home, which was sold
through the agency of D. C. Fisher, the popular real estate dealer.

C. D. Meigs, treasurer of the Indiana
Sunday School union will interest Sun-
day school workers to-morrow, Tuesday,
evening on the subject "How to Fail
and how to Succeed in Sunday School Work." The lecture is free. It is probable that an opportunity will be given for questions on Sunday school
work after the lecture.

"On the evening of St. Patrick's day
the Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger, of Fort Wayne diocese, will deliver a lecture at Wyso's opera house, at Muncie, on the theme, Rome and the Pope. The bishop is personally acquainted with the present Pontiff, Leo XIII., having frequently visited him at Rome, and spent
many months in that city. His prominence with the church, as well as his eloquence as an orator, will no doubt give him a large audience," says the Indianapolis Journal.

Catherine Lewis fainted one night in
"Olivette," but it didn't cause a ripple in
the play. "Twas only a cough, and they had a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup
on hand, of course.

PRICE THREE CENTS

HAHN!

The Louisiana Congressman Dead.

And Is Found Prostrate In a Pool of Blood in His Hotel Room.

The Senate at Work—The House Adjourns.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL. WASHINGTON, March 15.—The senate agreed to a resolution to appoint Rev. J. G. Butler D. D. of Washington, chaplain of the senate.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The president to-day sent the following nominations to be postmasters: Carbondale, Pa., Joseph Powderly; Athens, Pa., Henry C. Baird; Delafayette, O., John M. Hengster; Danville, Ind., Archibald P. Pounder; North Vernon, Ind., Fred W. Verburg; Abingdon, Ill., C. E. Giveus.

HOUSE.

Immediately after the reading of the journal the house adjourned out of respect to the memory of Representative Hahn, of Louisiana.

DOUGLASS AND HIS SUCCESSOR.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The resignation of Frederick Douglass from the office of recorder of deeds for the District of Columbia calls attention once more to this lion of the colored people, who, though in his 70th year, appears as strong and healthy as ever.

He can well retire from labor, as he possesses a fortune of about $300,000, and he has a beautiful home surrounded by large grounds on the other side of the Potomac, overlooking Washington. It is the old Van Hook mansion, the home of a noted negro-hater, who, when he divided up his lands for sale, put into every deed a stipulation that the purchaser should in no case sell to a negro. Fred Douglass owns it to-day, and the whole of the estate, so divided, is dotted with the homes of colored men. Douglass was, you know, a slave, and he fought as a boy with the dogs for the crumbs that fell from his master's table. He has made his money chiefly by lecturing, and by a paper called The North Star, which he used to edit. He got $100 a night lecturing and he invested his money in government bonds and real estate. There is no pleasanter home in Washington than his, and his white wife is a beautiful and accomplished lady.

Mr. Douglass' successor is also a colored man, Mr. James C. Matthews, of Albany, N. Y. He is 38 years old and a very successful lawyer. In 1850 he won a free scholarship in an Albany academy over thirty white boy applicants and graduated from there with great honor, carrying away the first prize and a medal for the best English essay. He is like Douglass, a natural orator, and is regarded as one of the coming leaders of his race. The office to which he is appointed is said to be worth from $5,000 to $10,000 a year.

PAUL BARTON.

DEMPSEY AND LE BLANCHE

One of the Pluckiest Fights Ever Witnessed.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL. New York, March 15.—What those who witnessed the encounter designate as the greatest middle-weight fight on record was fought yesterday morning at Rye, just on the border line between New York and Connecticut. The contestants were George Le Blanche, of Boston, and Jack Dempsey, of New York. The stakes were $1,000 a side and about $2,000 of a purse made up by certain gentlemen of this city. Jack Dempsey was the winner, thirteen rounds being bitterly contested, and it is declared that a better and more manfully fought fight was never witnessed.

Congressman Hahn Dead.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL. WASHINGTON, March 15.—Ex-Governor Michael Hahn, representative from the second district of Louisiana, died suddenly this morning from hemorrhage of the lungs.

When the froman at the Willard hotel went to the room occupied by Mr. Hahn at 6 o'clock, to attend to the fire, he was shocked upon finding Mr. Hahn stretched out on the floor dead in a pool of blood. He had died alone from hemorrhage.

Mr. F. B. Barnard, local agent of the Nickel Plate road, has leased the handsome residence just erected by Mrs. Dawson, on East Berry street.

RICH MRS. MORGAN.

She Refused Recognition to Her Sisters, and They Now Inherit Her Wealth.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL. WASHINGTON, March 15.—Civil Service Commissioner Edgerton was talking to me the other day about Mrs. Morgan, whose sale of pictures and bric-a-brac in New York is now attracting so much attention and money. I remember well, when she was a little girl I was her Sunday school teacher. Together with her two sisters, they came every Sunday to my class and said Sunday-school lessons. Then they lived with their father on Day street in New York. Since that time many things have happened, and I am sorry to say that I am afraid the principles and precepts I tried to impart did not have much weight. After her marriage, when she became wealthy she forgot she had two poor sisters, and went so far as to refuse to speak to them. But there is a retributive justice in it all. She died without a will, and all her money goes to the poor sisters whom she refused to notice in her life. She was a good Sunday-school scholar, but I am afraid the lessons she learned there did not impress themselves on her mind if she refused to know her sisters because they were poor and she was rich.

Suspected Express Robberies.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL. CHICAGO, March 15.—Two men suspected of being two of the principals in Saturday's express robbery and murder are under arrest near Joliet, Ill.

CHICAGO, March 15.—The stenographer who took the notes in the cross-examination of the brakeman concerning the express robbery, mysteriously disappeared on his way from the hotel to the office to write out the notes.

The petition of the government employees for pay for over time, and an amendment to the constitution making April 30 instead of March 4 inauguration day were referred and the pension bill for the orphan children and widows of soldiers went over until to-morrow on receipt of news of Mr. Hahn's death.

American Tract Society.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL. WASHINGTON, March 15.—At the annual meeting of the American Tract society last evening, addresses were made by ex-Justice Strong, Rev. Dr. Robinson, of New York; Senator Harrison, of Indiana; and Rev. Dr. Bartlett. The report shows receipts of $367,205, expenditures of $352,141, leaving a balance in the treasury of $6,064; grants of publications, 27,269; colporteurs employed, 100, and families visited, 154,415.

A Young Man Drowned.

MILWAUKEE, March 15.—Young Sheriff, of the firm of Sheriff & Son, who disappeared last fall and came here from Chicago, and after a week's dissipation dropped out of sight, was found in the river to-day. It is supposed he fell in accidentally.

Parnell's Plea.

By Cable to THE SENTINEL. DUBLIN, March 14.—Parnell publicly urges the members of the nationalist party in Ulster to refrain from celebrating St. Patrick's day by demonstrations, such as parades, likely to anger the Orangemen.

British Ministers Resign.

By Cable to THE SENTINEL. LONDON, March 15.—Troylin, secretary for Scotland, and Edward Home, chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, has resigned on account of their disinclination to support the Irish policy outlined by Gladstone.

Cheap Travel.

By Cable to THE SENTINEL. ST. LOUIS, March 15.—Yesterday the Union Pacific railway company announced first class tickets between the Missouri river and California for $23, and $12 for second class.

Condition of Hon. W. H. Barnum.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL. BRIDGEPORT, Conn., March 15.—A dispatch from Lime Rock, Connecticut, says that Hon. W. H. Barnum's condition is steadily improving. He has been very sick.

APRIL 30 OF THE recent London riots, it may be interesting to recall the fact that the famous Earl of Surrey was once accused before the Privy Council of rioting in London streets and breaking windows with a crossbow. His defense was a singularly ingenious one. "My motive," he said, "was a religious one, though I confess it lies open to misconception. It grieved me, my lords, to see the licentious manners of the citizens of London. Was I to suffer these unhappy men to perish without warning? Common charity forbade. I therefore went at midnight through the streets and shot from my crossbow at their windows, that the status passing noiseless through the air and breaking in upon their guilty seclusion might remind them of the solemnity of the punishment which the Scriptures tell us divine justice will inflict on impudent sinners, and so lead them to a reformation of manners."

WHAT WE HEAR.

The News of the Neighborhood Gathered Here.

Mrs. Quinn Evans, of Lafayette, has become hopelessly insane. William Friedly, father of Judge Friedly, of Madison, died at Scottsburg yesterday.

The little daughter of Nathan Palmer, of Seymour, died of strangulation from a grain of corn which had lodged in her windpipe four days previous.

Willie Heinbaugh, the son of a well-known citizen of Colburn, Tippecanoe county, lost an eye by sticking a knife in it while playing mumble peg.

A four-year-old daughter of Hon. John Kennedy, of Paragon, Morgan county, died yesterday from the results of a scalding occasioned by the upsetting of a kettle.

A petition is being circulated for the pardon of Joshua T. Reschberry, formerly of Lafayette, who was sentenced for forgery to five years imprisonment in the northern prison.

A. B. Kirkpatrick, of Kokomo, has been nominated for prosecuting attorney for the thirty-sixth judicial circuit, composed of Howard and Tipton counties, by the republicans.

Alfred Carpenter, a farmer, brooding over financial embarrassment, deliberately blew his brains out. He resided on Ryker's Ridge, four miles east of Madison. He leaves a widow and three children.

The postoffice at Greenfield and the dry goods house of C. M. Jackson were set on fire yesterday morning. The postoffice was seriously damaged, and the building was made a wreck. Loss, $1,000; insured.

The material for $5,000 blouses will soon be received at the quartermaster's depot, Jeffersonville, and the work of making them up given to the sewing women of Jeffersonville and New Albany, among whom $3,750 will be paid out.

David Shakes, charged with administering a drug to Miss Amanda London, of Lake Marquette, on the 12th of November, was found guilty and sentenced to three years in the prison north. Miss London came near dying from the effects of the medicine.

Indiana men are prominent in Dakota. G. C. Moody, one of the senators-elect, will be remembered as the member of the legislature who challenged Horace Heffron to fight a duel in Kentucky just before the war, and Governor Mollott is an Indiana product, having also served in the legislature.

The Madison county commissioners have appointed Mr. Thomas Boland janitor of the court house for a period of five years for $1,625 per year. There were several bids presented for the work, all of which were from $300 to $600 lower than Boland's, and hence an attempt will be made to overcome the contract.

Mr. Sparks, an old gentleman living near Charlestown, in packing up his household property found a number of partly filled medicine bottles, and thinking they would be broken, he poured the contents into a glass and drank the mixture. He soon became unconscious, and it took the doctors ten hours to resuscitate him. He is now in a very critical condition.

Samuel Archer, one of the famous Archer gang of Martin county, has been captured eight miles south of Hillsboro, where he was working in a sawmill. He knew nothing of the lynching of his brothers. He was going under the name of Buffington. He was taken to the jail at Covington. He declares that he knows of the crimes of his family, but took no part in them.

The Indiana attorney Friday gave an opinion that the mortgage of property to the college fund has no right to redemption if the property has been forfeited to the state for non-payment of interest and sold for principal and interest by the auditor and treasurer of the state at public sale. The state authorities redemption if sold under a judgment decree or other judicial proceedings. The case does not come under this statute.

Sarah Hunsott and Joseph Heffner, employed at Myers' restaurant in Logansport, were literally burned up before between forty and fifty horrified spectators Saturday. The woman was filling a gasoline stove with oil from a pail, when it exploded, saturating her clothing and that of Heffner. They ran into the street, flames ten feet high streaming above their heads. They ran for three minutes and at last sank exhausted to the ground, when they were dragged and placed under a pump spout. Neither can live.

GRAHAM

Again Makes a Biblical Confession.

Dempsey and Le Blanche Have the Neatest and Hardest Glove Fight on Record.

THE GRAHAM TRAGEDY.

A Remarkable Biblical Confession Made by the Springfield, Mo., Wife-murderer.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL. SPRINGFIELD, Mo., March 15.—On the third day of this month George Graham, the alleged wife-murderer, asked the sheriff for a bible, in which he marked the following passages, indicating the order in which they should be read, as given below. It shows considerable ingenuity and a close familiarity with the Scriptures, and if the reader will borrow a Bible and follow the directions he will have an entertaining story:

Ecclesiastes, third chapter, verses 1 to 9, inclusive, and verse 22.
Ecclesiastes, seventh chapter, verses 25, 26 and 27.
Acts, twenty-seventh chapter, verses 1, 6, 12 and 13.
Acts, twenty-fourth chapter, verse 13.
Thirty-first Psalm, verses 12, 13, 21, 22.
Seventeenth Psalm, verses 12, 13, 14.
Proverbs, sixth chapter, verses 26, 34, 35.
Proverbs, seventh chapter, verses 21, 22, 23, 27.
Proverbs, fifth chapter, verses 15, 2, 20.

To those who are familiar with the generally accepted theory of the murder this will be accepted as a confession of the crime, and a reproach to the women through whose machinations it is believed he was driven to the deed.

The examination of Mrs. Molloy and Corn Lee has not yet developed any striking incident. David Anderson, a neighbor, testified that Corn evidenced much uneasiness when Busse and two constables approached her house, and that she concealed a revolver under her apron and went out to the gate. The progress made was slow, as the prosecution is moving deliberately and with caution, with a determination of driving home every point and clinching it. The state insists on hovering around the well, and, notwithstanding the topic seems repulsive to the defense, with but one exception no witness has yet been allowed by the state to leave the stand without a repetition of the details of the pitiful story that was woven out of the gloomy cavern on the Molloy farm on the 25th of last month. It is determined that no incident, however, apparently trivial to a public awaiting with impatience the result, shall be lost in the summary of evidence which the prosecution is confident will culminate in holding the woman to answer before the grand jury to the complaint upon which their present arraignment is based.

TOLEDO NEWS.

The Orphan Boys—The Big Fire.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL. COLUMBUS, March 15.—Governor Foraker sent a message to the legislature to-day stating that the boys of the Toledo house of refuge, which was burned Saturday, would be transferred to Lancaster to-morrow morning, and calling attention to the necessity of some immediate provisions for their care and future support.

The mills of the Toledo Lumber Oil company burned down last night. One hundred barrels of naphtha exploded and burned Frank Langmore and William Kirkham, spectators, very severely. The total loss to the oil works, including the Yurum company's losses, is $130,000. Other losses, $10,000; insurance, $80,000.

A Bad Steamship Collision.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL. New York, March 15.—The British steamer Oregon, formerly of the Gracie and latterly of the Cunard line, from Liverpool and New York, was run into by a schooner between three and 4 o'clock while east of Five Islands, having two holes stove in her. Part of her passengers were transferred to a pilot boat and part to a schooner, and subsequently all were transferred to the steamer Fidda. The Oregon was entirely abandoned and sank at 1 p. m. Sunday. All of the passengers and crew were saved.

One of the sailors of the Oregon said that immediately after the collision the hull of the sailing vessel was seen drifting slowly by on port side of the steamer, grazing her side as she passed astern. It was thought that she sank as soon as she cleared the Oregon, and as none of her crew are on the Fidda, he presumed they had all been drowned.

A BIG SUIT.

Mrs. Catherine E. Cutler Sues L. M. Jones for a Clean $30,000.

Catherine E. Cutler, through her attorneys, Morris & Barrett, this morning filed suit against L. M. Jones, Emma A. Jones, Owen B. Hill and Wilson B. Payne for $30,000. The complaint is now a resident of Logansport. Her maiden name formerly was Catherine Lussella. She was the wife of Thomas Meegan, deceased.

The complaint alleges that while agent for Mrs. Cutler, Mr. Jones induced the lady to convey almost all of her property to Mrs. Jones, and Hill and Payne, who afterward transferred the real estate to Jones, or, at least, the most of it. For this property Mrs. Cutler received no consideration and the proceedings now are to declare a trust, set aside the alleged fraudulent conveyance and otherwise compel Mr. Jones to render an account of his stewardship to Mrs. Cutler. Judge O'Rourke ordered the defendants to appear before Morris & Barrett from day to day and be examined in the case. The judge also made the real estate of the defendants subject to all future judgments in the cause. The property involved includes some of the Jones and Hill additions.

POLICE COURT.

An Old Time List of Offenders Before His Honor.

Police court looked itself again this morning and Mayor Muhler smiled on the assembly. The roll call proceeded this way:

Felix Lordier, Academy station, drunk; bailed out for $11.

Robert Hamilton, bar tender and fish man; jail.

Wm. Kaylor, driver for James Ryan, drunk; jail.

Henry Brown, recently from prison, drunk; jail.

Thomas Marshall, a mere kid and devil at the Newspaper union, drunk. Let go for swearing against Giesdorfer, who sold him liquor. Giesdorfer was arrested.

Michael Chambers was fined for drunkenness.

Louis Thompson and Minnie Small, arrested by Officer Humbrecht in a Clinton street lauren, were represented by cash, which they put up and forfeited.

The man is Louis Horstmeier and the woman's name is Hamm. Her father lives in the country and the name is familiar since the famous Hamm-Romine case.

A Lively Mill.

A scene not announced in the papers occurred in an old ice house in the eastern portion of the city near White's spoke factory yesterday morning. About 10 o'clock two young men named John J. Voirol and William Pranger with numerous backers and friendly admirers gathered at the above named place where a ring was hastily improvised and the boys put on soft gloves, governed by Marquis of Queensbury rules, and with George Trenman as referee, went at it with the intention of seeing who was the "best man." Twelve rounds were fought at which the "mill" was decided in favor of Voirol on a foul from the other contestant. Both boys were pretty well used up, but it was conceded that Pranger got the worst of the fight.

Real Estate Transfers.

Olds Bros., real estate agents, room No. 8, Foster block, report the following recorded real estate transfers:

Elizabeth Munoh to Perry A. Randall, by warranty deed, lot 151 Northside addition, for $600.

Cerena Anna Miller to Allen and Warren Hartzell, by warranty deed, part of section 11 Adams township, for $800.

Jacob Sigler to John W. Duaton, by warranty deed, 40 acres in section 20, Perry township, for $750.

ANSON HUGH, of Blackberry, Ill., says he owes his life to Gilmore's Magnetic Elixir. Try it.

MR. A. HIGGINS, of Wyoming, N. Y., says he had the piles for nearly 40 years, and was cured by using Gilmore's Pile specific.

WHY WILL YOU SUFFER from ague and malaria when Gilmore's Aromatic Wine will cure you. GILMORE'S NEURALGIA CURE is a positive cure for neuralgia in the face, side and stomach.

JOHN H. YATES, of Batavia, N. Y., says: "I cheerfully commend Your AROMATIC WINE. It did new life and vigor to me. Through the weak frame of a child for all my stomach ills. More than the doctor and his pills." For sale by Drover & Bros., and G. H. Chappin.

GOULD!

Gives His Views on the Great Strike.

ALL OPEN

The Texas Pacific Ready for Business.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL. GALVESTON, Texas, March 15.—A special to the News from Dallas says: "Receivers Brown and Sheldon have received notice from the United States marshal that the Texas Pacific railroad is now open from end to end."

ANOTHER ATTEMPT.

St. Louis, March 14.—The company will again make an attempt to renew its freight traffic to-day. The suburban accommodation trains departed and arrived on time this morning. The engineers have already expressed their intention of standing at their posts when so ordered until they become convinced they go out at their own risks. The firemen have been instructed to do the same.

JAY GOULD TALKS.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 14.—Jay Gould says: "The present strike is made up of an issue with which we have nothing to do and which we cannot possibly arbitrate or control. It originates in the discharge of an employee named Hall, on the Texas and Pacific, which road is in the hands of the United States court. We have no more right to attempt to control the workings of that system than the workmen themselves and we would be as completely in contempt to do so as any other outsider. It is our intention to resume operations and as soon as the protection of the civil authorities is offered."

A NEW MAN ASSAULTED.

St. Louis, March 15.—Five strikers assaulted a new switchman in the Missouri Pacific yards this morning, and knocked him senseless. One was arrested.

GONE TO WORK.

DOWNS, Kas., March 15.—Striking Knights of Labor on the Central Branch of the Union Pacific railway have accepted the company's terms and returned to work.

The Studebaker Strike.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL. SOUTH BEND, Ind., March 15.—Studebaker Brothers have issued a card to the public, giving the history of the strike, their reasons for not making a general increase in wages, and announcing that the whistles will be blown March 29th for a resumption of work. All employees are invited to return. The pay-roll will be revised, and wages increased where justice demands it.

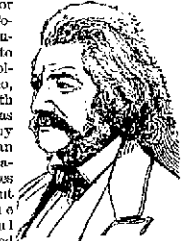

George Gould's Bride Elect.

While Jay Gould and his family are off on a pleasure trip on board his yacht Atlanta, George, the eldest son, has been left at home to look after his father's affairs. He is well liked and has a social following of about 500 years. Now Dame Rumor has it that he has been paying considerable attention to an actress of Mr. Daly's theatre, and the couple are engaged. George has been for ten years very much sought after by the young ladies in upper-middle class, but he seems to have cautiously kept a cool head from them. He has always taken a fancy for theatrical matters. His father recognizing this, gave him Jim Dick's celebrated theatre, the Grand opera house, which he still owns and manages. So it was not a surprise to any of his friends to learn that he had fallen in love with Miss Edith Kingdon, one of the prettiest and most refined of the ladies upon the New York stage. She may yet be one of the wealthiest women in America. Mr. Gould's income now is over $5,000,000 a year. This will increase to a fabulous amount in time, and in the natural order of things George will inherit the bulk of it.

John Stoner, an old millwright, formerly well off, died at his home on High street, this morning, aged seventy-four years.

JAMES C. MATTHEWS.

GEORGE GOULD.

Lafayette, Ind., shares, with twenty-three other cities and towns in the United States, the distinction of being named after the great French patriot who did so much for this country and his own, but it is alone in the honor of being mentioned in the Encyclopedia Britannica. Life is lively pushing city on the Wabash, with many cosy homes, fine public buildings, general air of prosperity and enterprise, is very pleasant, and recently many of its citizens felt that it has assumed new airs since rheumatism has been robbed of its terrors.

"I have had rheumatic pains in my feet for a number of years. They affected me at times so that it was with much difficulty that I could walk, especially in going down stairs. Athlophoros was first recommended to me by Bishop Bowman. I did not get it at that time, but kept trying other medicines, which were again recommended to me by a lady. I then sent for and bought a bottle. I took a dose, and it seemed to me as if I could feel it go through my system until it came directly to the sore spot. It felt just as a little stream of water looks when during its course it comes in contact with a pebble. One or the other must give way. The water may run around the stone, but that was not the way Athlophoros did. It did not go around the pain, but drove it away. The relief was almost instantaneous. While I am getting along in years and cannot expect to get rid entirely of these pains at once, yet a small dose of Athlophoros in a little cream—the way in which I find most pleasant to take it—relieves the pain immediately."

"I was just about to start down to my office one morning last winter," he said, "when a terrible pain took me right in the hip and then ran down the sciatic nerve as quick as lightning. It was with much pain and distress that I managed to get down to my office at all. My business being such that it was necessary for me to be at the office every day, I was obliged to hobble along and get there the best I could. I suffered for some time in this way, trying all kinds of remedies, but nothing seemed to check the disease until I commenced using Athlaphores. The first four doses gave me relief. I only used one bottle, and am perfectly well, as you see now. I have never had any return of the pain since I took the Athlaphores."

ONE HENSON'S CAPSICUM PLASTER
is worth a dozen of any other kind. Between the fingers of your hand is a plaster that there is but one choice. Henson's plaster modern, scientific, prompt in action, safe, pleasant to wear, cleanly, and cures ailments in four hours when no others are effective. It is made of the finest oils, resins, and capsi-cums. Pharmacists and druggists, voluminous and over their own written signatures, the testimonials of Henson's plaster, under the name of "Capsicum," "Capsicumum," "Capsicum," "Capsicine," &c., are numerous for sale. The capsicum is the most powerful of all the capsi-cums against rheumatism. It is the only capsicine against rheumatism by examining the article tendered by the dealer. Ask for Henson's plaster and you will find the "Three Stars"
brandmark on the faced cloth and the name of Henson's plaster on the middle of the paper.

A HINDOO priest writes to the Fortnightly Review, complaining that the material benefits which British rule is conferring upon India do not compensate for the uprooting of the old faith which have followed. Morality, he declares, is utterly vanishing in consequence. In particular language he goes on to say that idolatry to him and many of his friends is merely "traditional symbolism useful to simple-hearted devotion;" and that when British missionaries assert the Hindoo mythology to be "mere imagination," and the gods themselves to be "nothing but fanciful creation," "we," he adds, "if the priesthood can only reply mournfully that we have known it for years and felt the divinity to be but shadows and signs of the incomprehensible—a mere fantastic mystery play." When this comes to a point, he asks what basis for an ethical system will be left.

MARY ANDERSON'S DEBUT AND AGE.

An Amusing Box-Office Romance—About Superstitions of Actors—Stage Gossip, Etc.

A Story of Mary Anderson.

Mary Anderson's first visit to Washington was soon after her debut. Gen. Sherman was her chief patron. She played at the old National Theater. John McCullough acted Ingomar to her Parthenia. They redeemed a wretched play. Arriving at the close of the second act I went to a friend's box to which I had been invited. Regret was expressed at my lateness, as Mary Anderson had spent the previous inter-act in that box. Rap, rap, came at the door. When it opened there stood the peerless Greek maiden. After a "how d'you do" she threw herself into a stiff wooden chair, tipped it back against the wall, crossed her knees, and swaying backwards and forwards, hummed "Sweet Little Buttercup," which the band was playing with impunity, for it was seven years ago. Ever since this little incident the "tom boy" stories about Mary Anderson have seemed to me quite credible.—Washington Letter.

A Box-Office Romance.

It was one of the brightest mornings of February. Philemon Maguff was in no humor to enjoy the rare loveliness of the day. In an evil hour Philemon had allowed Hermione Rafferty to inveigle him into inviting her to the opera; and now he stood in a line before the theater's box-office, juggling five bright silver dollars, and wondering whether there were any good seats left. One by one the people whose places in the line were ahead of his bought their tickets and departed. The morning was slowly away, and at last Philemon noticed that only two ladies intervened between him and the longed-for diagram. He whistled "The Flowers that Bloom in the Spring" for very joy.

"Let me see the diagram, please," said one of the ladies to the man in the box-office.

"Sure, you mean the synopsis," gently corrected the other, as the required article was placed before them. Then they began to make up their minds where they wanted their seats.

The long, weary afternoon crept by at a snail's pace. Philemon had leaned against the wall and jugged his five silver dollars till he was threatened with a paralytic stroke. Then he sent to a neighboring furniture store for an armchair. They brought it to him; and then he sent a messenger for some lunch.

They sent him a light repast, and he sat in his arm-chair and read a libretto till the shades of evening crept over the landscape. The two ladies were still at the box-office making up what they functionally termed their minds. Philemon was calm and patient. He did not even swear—he was too tired. At last some kind soul gave him a Philadelphia paper, and under its soothing influence he soon fell into a deep, dreamless sleep.

He was awakened by the noise of rushing feet, and the turmoil of many voices. With blinking, bewildered eyes he saw a brilliant throng issuing from the play-house, and he knew that the opera was over. The two ladies were still at the box-office deliberating. Half-dazed, Philemon staggered into the street, and, though the hour was late, he hurried to the home of Hermione Rafferty. "I will tell her all," he said, "and throw myself upon her clemency."

He did so; and Hermione forgave him, as she certainly should have done under the circumstances.—Chicago Rambler.

Curious Superstitions of Play Actors.

Curious as these general superstitions are, those of individual members of the profession are even more curious. If Clara Morris sees a nail on the stage floor she flees, and she refuses to move a step before the offensive nail has been removed. Fanny Davenport refuses to use any cosmetics but those of one person's make—(his person being that of the woman who made up her face for her debut when she was a child. She attributes the failure of "An American Girl" to a change of cosmetics. A pin on the stage with its head toward Ada Rohan will frighten that capricious actress out of her wits, for she regards it as a sign of great ill luck. She saw a pin lying in that ominous position the night of "Love on Crutches," and to this circumstance attributed the circumstance that another actress in a subordinate part made a greater success than she did with the leading character. Agnes Booth is superstitious about allowing a wig to be dressed on her head; she thinks it brings ill luck. Mrs. Fernandez, who trains children for the stage, believes only in plays with children's parts. Edwin Booth has a superstitious dread of sleeping in any of the old-numbered rooms of a hotel. This superstition necessitates the engaging of apartments for him in the various cities where he is to play engagements at the time his tour is laid out. Lawrence Barrett, has a prejudice, strong enough to amount to a superstition, against people with many noses in their names. Poor John McCullough would never allow his dresser, when dressing him for a new part, to slip a garment on over his head, no matter how great inconvenience this whim caused.

The superstitions of comedians are even more absurd than those of the tragedians named. John T. Raymond, it is said, regards a red-haired woman with horror. To meet a woman with red hair in the street on the day of the production of a play he considers an omen of bad luck. Indeed, he will actually remain in the house in order not to run the risk of meeting a red-haired woman. J. K. Emmet won't pass a person on the stairs. If he happens to be half way up a flight and someone is coming down, he descends to the foot of the stairs again and takes a fresh start. It sometimes happens that he has to turn back several times before he can ascend the whole flight. He has the same dread of passing people on his way downstairs. Nat Goodwin thinks there's bad luck in meeting a gray horse in the morning. James Lewis, when studying a new part, carries an old penny-shoe in his pocket. His wife once proposed to decorate the shoe, but Lewis regarded the proposal with so much alarm and protested so vehemently that Mrs. Lewis desisted. It is even said that Lewis never sits down to a game of poker without the penny-shoe in his pocket. He found it years ago, and has ever since regarded it as a talisman. Tom Whiffen owes his superstition to his knowledge of music. If he has a musical entrance in a play he thinks the scene will prove a failure; if the music is in sharp he feels sure of success.—New York Express.

Mary is 27.

Mary Anderson will soon be 27 years of age. She was born at Sacramento, Cal., July 28, 1859; but when she was scarcely a year old her parents removed to Louisville, Ky., which became her permanent home. She was educated at the Presentation Academy and the Ursuline Convent of that city. While a mere child her passion for theatrical performances manifested itself, and the development of dramatic genius in her was so apparent that at an early age she obtained the consent of her parents to quit school and enter upon a course of dramatic study. For two years she applied herself under the best masters in Louisville. On the recommendation of Charlotte Cushman she then went to New York and studied under George Vandenhoff for one year. The year following she studied at home under his direction, and made her debut in Louisville, Ky., at Macaulay's Theater, Nov. 27, 1875, in the exacting role of Juliet. The debut was a brilliant success, and the management of that theater promptly offered her the first open week, Feb. 20, 1876, on regular starring terms. This engagement proved highly profitable, for her fame grew rapidly and other managers began to offer her engagements. Miss Anderson's second season began at the California Theater, San Francisco, under the management of John McCullough, where she added Parthenia to her repertoire. The third season found her in Philadelphia and Boston, and every other prominent city except New York, where she did not go until the following year. Then she made her debut at the Fifth Avenue Theater, where an engagement for two weeks proved so profitable that it was extended to six. During the summer which followed she took her first trip to Europe, refusing engagements offered her in London and Paris. During her fifth, sixth, and seventh seasons she played in every city in the United States, adding to her repertoire the Duchess of Torrenanova in "Paint Heart Ne'er Won Fair Lady," the Countess in "Love," and Galatea in "Pygmalion and Galatea." Her last two seasons were played at the Lyceum Theater in London, where she took Mr. Irving's place while he made his American tour. There she added "As You Like It" and "Comedy and Tragedy" to her repertoire. She returned to this country last fall, and began this season's engagement October 12, 1885, at the Star Theater, New York. Miss Anderson's career, from first to last, has been a triumphal tour, but she has fairly won her honors, and is entitled to wear them royally, as she does.—St. Louis Republican.

Green-Room Chat.

MAURICE BARRYMORE will again do leads for Modjeska next season.

One other day an actor playing in one of the farce comedies so much in vogue at present, saw a gentleman in the audience get up and put on his overcoat. Says the actor: "I beg your pardon, sir, but there is still another act." "Yes, I know," replied the spectator, "that is exactly the reason I am going away."—New York Dispatch.

LEAD POISONING.
Men employed in lead works, according to the London Mining Journal, who eat largely of fat meat and other fatty matters, are much less susceptible to lead poisoning than others. At an establishment on the Continent, where a great deal of work was done, there were the usual attacks of poisoning, but a change in the food—cheese, butter, bacon, pork, lard, and similar articles being thereafter the principal diet—soon put an end to the attacks, and no one was troubled with lead colic for more than fifteen years. The free use of milk is said to have the same effect.

Spring Medicine

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dizziness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and serious and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla. "I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly any energy to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." R. A. SAMPSON, Kent, O. "I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLER, Boston, Mass.

Great Reduction in Prices for 1886.

Goods are so low now that it can hardly be expected that there will be any further decline, so that those laying in full supplies will not likely be disappointed.

Coffee Down 2c, Tea Down 10c, Sugars Down 1-2c, Syrups Down 10c, Turkish Prunes Down 1c.

Best Rio Coffee down to 12c a pound; good Rio coffee down to 10c a pound; best Roasted Rio down to 12 1/2c a pound; Government Java, 25c; Roasted Java 25c.

TEAS Reduced in Proportion.

It is no more a luxury to buy Teas. When they were $1 and $2 per pound then of course the consumption of them was small, but now the price is so low that a good Tea can be bought at 25c per pound then they could within the reach of all.

We are unable to do so low simply in consequence of our immense trade. At times we sell two and three chests daily, and buying direct of the importers and selling direct to the consumers, enables us to save our customers the profits of the jobber, speculator and wholesaler, which is at least 10 to 20 per pound.

MONDAY, MARCH 15, 1886.

THE CITY.

Mrs. O. B. Fitch is quite ill.
The Louisiana lottery drawing occurs to-morrow.
No quarters or halves have been coined
since 1878.
Col. F. N. Kollock was at South Bend
Saturday last.
Irvin Stratton, the attorney, left for Topeka, Kansas, last night.
Rev. C. W. Lynch, of this city, preached at Monroeville, yesterday.
The Pittsburg employes will be paid
St. Patrick's day for the February service.

Twenty-seven quick delivery letters were handled in the Fort Wayne postoffice last week.

Sold D. Bayless Lodge F. and A. M.,
will have work in the first and second
degrees to-night.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Anderson will celebrate the fifty-eighth anniversary of
their marriage April 15th.

Col. Sam B. Sweet, of the Wabash,
and S. A. Winkle, of the Muncie, were registered at Indianapolis hotels Saturday.

Mrs. Eva Harter, favorably known here, sings the part of "Yum Yum" in
the "Mikado" to be produced at Wabash
March 17 and 18.

R. A. Van Fleet has resigned as night
ticket clerk at the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne
and Chicago depot here. He is succeeded by Frank Cissel, of Indianapolis.

Architect Lane, of Cleveland, was here
yesterday submitting plans for St. Mary's
selected, as Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger
has examined none.

The cottage meeting of the R. R. Y.
M. C. A. will be held on Tuesday evening at the residence of R. Hamilton, 91 Williams street. Everybody in the vicinity cordially invited.

"Mrs. W. D. Lang is visiting her sister, Mrs. Brown, at Fort Wayne. Mrs.
I. Fisher and daughter Carrie, of Fort Wayne, are the guests of Mrs. D. Kahn,"
says the Indianapolis Times.

Albert Baker, who is confined in the Lafayette county jail for bigamy, is a
raving maniac, and makes the night hideous with his howls. He is alleged to have a wife living near Fort Wayne.

Rev. S. B. Shaw, editor of the Michigan Holiness and Mrs. Cook, of Chicago, are conducting a lively revival at the Princess rink. They held an open air
meeting at the artesian well yesterday
afternoon.

A wreck occurred on the Nickel Plate
at Hammond, a suburb of Chicago, Saturday, by some cars jumping the track.
A car load of oil was demolished and it
took the wreck train five hours to clear
the track.

Ex-Sheriff Vint O'Donnell, of Peru,
who is in the employ of the Wabash
road, while unloading some car wheels
at the Peru shops, was caught by a
wheel falling from a car and had his leg
broken near the knee.

Wm. Kaough has resigned as inspector of the second precinct of the First
ward and the county commissioners have
appointed Chris Kramer in his place.
Henry Kammerer has succeeded George Philabaum, deceased, as inspector in
first precinct of Washington township.

Judge Honoh this morning divorced Lulu Bryant from Ira Bryant. The
people lived at Auburn and Elkhart but
Lulu is now an inmate of the Oliver house.
She is rather pretty and a fur collar en-
dored her familiar neck and traced the
edges of a brown cloak to her toes.
Bachelor lawyers hung about the court
and the judge blushed.

The circuit court jury is called for
next Monday.

T. E. Ellison left Saturday evening
for Washington, D. C.

Sebastian Eutrodocher and Elizabeth
Yost have been licensed to wed.

R. B. Rossington was at Kendallville
over Sunday and returned to-day.

A social will be given at the Trinity
19.

The men at the Olds wagon and
wheel works got their pay for the month
of February, to-day.

Mrs. Tim Kelly, of the Sixth ward,
was stricken almost dead Saturday, but
the doctors revived her with great difficulty.

"G. W. Lahr, of Warren township, a student at Fort Wayne college, was in
the city to-day," says the Huntington Herald.

Everybody rides free on the Wabash
since the arrival of a handsome boy baby
at the home of George W. McConnell,
the clever ticket agent.

Manager O. L. Perry has a snow
white poodle and has christened the pet
"Mercedez." Perry is now the greatest dude on earth and his canine is already
celebrated.

There is a statute which permits the
county commissioners to allow cattle the
freedom of any locality in the county
they may think best. It is a sort of
local option, but little attention is paid
to it here.

Wodlaka, the Austrian tragedian,
opens half a week's engagement at the Academy to-night. The first play will
be "Lady of Lyons" and will be followed
by "Hamlet," "Fool's Revenge," "Mar-

"C. L. Hill, of Fort Wayne, was in
the George Steck & Co. piano. This
firm was awarded the gold medal at the Vienna exposition over the Chickering
Plain Dealer.

The Long telephone, manufactured at Washington is being sold in this state
for $45. It was tested at Lafayette and
people talked plainly fifty miles apart.
This instrument is replacing the Bell
telephone and at Lafayette the citizens
are taking hold of the enterprise.

Speaking of Pottlitzer Bros. getting a car load of bananas at Fort Wayne, the Lafayette Courier adds: "This has got
to be a common occurrence since this
enterprising firm opened out in Lafayette. Fort Wayne people will get used to this after Pottlitzer Bros. have been
with them for a while."

Ryron W. Orr, business manager of Benton's "Silver Spur," which is to play
a week's engagement at the Academy,
commencing March 22d, is in the city,
and called on THE SENTINEL. The "Silver Spur" is one of the comedy hits of the season, and is from the pen of Scott Marble. It is looked at the Chicago
Criterion all this week.

The supreme court has denied the
John Anderson. Anderson is a Fort
Wayne boy sent up from Noble county
for an alleged indecent assault on a grass
widow from Fort Wayne during the progress of a picnic at Rome City. Anderson is now in the prison north. His mother and brother live here.

The pay car of the Pittsburg, Fort
Wayne and Chicago railway arrived at Alliance on Saturday evening. Gottlieb
Bare, a track laborer, drew his month's
wages and started home. He was met by
tramps, who gave him a terrible beating
with coupling pins, and then robbed him.
He was found insensible and taken home
where he now lies with no hopes of his
recovery.

John F. Miller, general superintendent of the Pennsylvania lines west of
Pittsburg, the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne
and Chicago excepted, is with his family
in Texas, in the very heart of the railroad strikes. While he may teach the Texan railway managers how to handle
strikers, he will hardly go so far as to
run one of their engines, as he did for
the Panhandle, when the strike of the Pennsylvania company was on hand.

"A Fort Wayne saloon keeper has reduced the price of whisky from ten to
five cents a drink and beer from five to
three cents per glass. In advertising
these reduced prices of the staple stimulants the aforesaid saloonist finds himself 'the workingman's friend,' which is
a very inconsistent title, considering the
business he is engaged in. The man who
sells beer and liquor even at the reduced
figures quoted, is far from being a true
friend of the workingman," says the Wabash Courier.

At the annual meeting of the stock-
holders of the Pennsylvania road, a resolution directing the incoming managers
to enter into negotiations with the Central Transportation company looking to
the acquiring of the rights and property
of said company, that the profits from
running sleeping and parlor cars may
accrue to the shareholders of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, was referred to the incoming board. Resolutions
instructing the managers to conduct the
express and telegraph business, instead
of depending on other companies, was
laid on the table.

The Wodlaka party carries its own
special scenery.

in session this week.

Gert Shober assumes the city editor-
ship of the Journal to-night.

"Lady of Lyons" at the Academy tonight with Edward Wodlaka as Claude
Melnotte.

Willie, the little son of Mr. and Mrs.
Ben Noll, is rapidly recovering from a
severe illness.

Miss Sadie Churehill, a very pretty
girl, will sing, a leading part in the
"Naked Queen."

Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger goes to Muncie St. Patrick's day and lectures
there in the evening.

Mr. P. C. Fisher has been appointed receiver in the case of Root vs. Fry, involving some property.

The "Devil's Auction" company
opened at McVicker's theatre, Chicago
for a week, beginning last night.

Deputy Sheriff Wise is selling the
bankrupt stock of Charley Reese. Mr.
John Hance is clerk of the sale.

Louisa E. Cass sues Wm. Cass to force the appointment of a receiver for some of the Godfrey property. Hon. W.
G. Colerick filed the suit.

The members of the St. Patrick's ho-moevolent society are requested to meet in their room promptly at 8:30 a. m., on
the morning of St. Patrick's day.

Sneak thieves stole $14 from N. P.
Stookbridge, and $3 from Conrad Pieperbrink, the shoe man, Saturday. One man engaged the proprietor while the
other robbed the cash drawer.

Mr. C. B. Woodworth and son, Master Bennie, returned yesterday from Texas. Mrs. Woodworth and baby are still in the south and will not return
until the railroad strike is settled.

The indications for the lower lake
region, as reported by the weather
bureau at Washington to THE SENTINEL,
are as follows: Cooler, followed by
warmer weather, with rain or snow.

Belle Boyd lectured at the Academy
last night to a small crowd. The lady had numerous callers at the Avoline
house yesterday and is the mamma of a precocious kid who got into a peck of
trouble about the hotel.

The Order of Railway Conductors,
which has a membership of some twenty
thousand, under its by-laws does not allow conductors to take part in strikes.
A member so doing is subject to expulsion.
The insurance association connected with
this order is becoming a grand affair for making large insurance at small expense.

"There appeared an item in the Bee
of Tuesday, March 9, copied from the
Fort Wayne Journal stating that S.
Goldman, who formerly ran a clothing
store in that city, had started one with
the same name in Toledo. This is incorrect, as Goldman Bros. never had any
connection with a store in Fort Wayne,"
remarks the Toledo Bee.

The efforts of the Pennsylvania Rail-
road company to establish a relief fund
among its employees has not been successful. The failure apparently arises
from two causes: First, the jealousy of
the men of any infringement of their liberty, and second, owing to an unreason-
able fear that the company would in

The "Devil's Auction" company gave
a fine show at the Temple Saturday
night. The performance was without a fault and Manager Yale put every bit of
scenery on the stage, making the grand-
est picturesque sight ever witnessed
here. There are fifty people in the party and they travel in special cars.
There were few ladies at the show, although at Grand Rapids for two nights
they flocked to see the "Auction."

The recent decision of the supreme
court does not affect the title of the Wabash and Erie canal, as the item from
the Indianapolis papers inferred, but in
the words of the decision simply says that
the state did not directly or indirectly
sell bridges erected over said canal for
public use, and such bridges were not
appurtenances to the canal, and where
it is destroyed, the county may rebuild
such bridge on its former location, and
use the stones in the piers and abut-
ments for that purpose.

The shipments of grain, flour and provisions from Chicago, to eastern through
stations, by the pool lines during the
week ending Saturday, March 13,
amounted to 92,692 tons, against 45,914
tons during the preceding week, a decrease of 12,582 tons, and against 66,075
tons during the corresponding week of 1885, a decrease of 34,043 tons. The Nickel Plate carried 1,336 tons and the
Pittsburg and Fort Wayne road 3,818,
although the latter road was awarded
20.2 per cent. of the business.

The county commissioners have established the Leander ditch in Scipio and Muncie townships, the Landy ditch in Lake township and Baker ditch No. 1 in Monroe township. These ditch matters
are under consideration: M. A. Johnson
et al., petition for ditch in El River
township; R. H. Newhaus et al., petition
for ditch in Washington township; Louis
Berthaud et al., petition for ditch in Jackson township; J. K. Edgerton and
W. W. Watson, petition for ditch in Jackson and Muncie townships.

A child of Wm. Heuer, of 92 Oliver street, will be buried to-morrow afternoon.

James Lichey, a vicious boy, was committed to the state reform school
to-day.

Michigan City has closed a contract
for the Indianapolis Jenney electric light.
The company puts up a forty-light

Mr. W. R. Spencer, of Hannibal, Mo.,
is in the city being instructed by the Jenney Electric Light company, preparatory to taking charge of a plant in Hannibal.

Charles Stein was arrested to-day for
tampering with the affections of Bertha Gust. Stein wanted to wed Bertha, but
she wouldn't have it, and he went to jail
in default of $300 bail.

Henry Lauer has sued the Pennsylvania Railroad company for $10,000
damages for injuries received in the
service of the corporation. Hon. W. G.
Colerick is counsel for Mr. Lauer.

John W. Jacobs, the boot and shoe merchant, has purchased the Henry Rad-
isill farm, just north of the city near the French brewery. Mr. Jacobs will occupy
the suburban home, which was sold
through the agency of D. C. Fisher, the
popular real estate dealer.

C. D. Meigs, treasurer of the Indiana
Sunday School union will interest Sun-
day school workers to-morrow, Tuesday,
evening on the subject "How to Fail
and how to Succeed in Sunday School
Work." The lecture is free. It is probable that an opportunity will be given for questions on Sunday school
work after the lecture.

"On the evening of St. Patrick's day
the Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger, of Fort Wayne diocese, will deliver a lecture at Wysser's opera house, at Muncie, on the theme, Home and the Pope. The bishop is personally acquainted with the
present Pontiff, Leo XIII., having frequently visited him at Rome, and spent
many months in that city. His prominence with the church, as well as his elo-
quence as an orator, will no doubt give
apolis Journal.

Catherine Lewis fainted one night in
"Olivette," but it didn't cause a ripple in
the play. 'Twas only a cough, and they had a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup
on hand, of course.

Dr. E. F. Sites has removed his dental office from 37 to 84 Calhoun street,
front room, over Mordhuist's drug store.
These new parlors are handsomely furnished and equipped with all the appliances known to dental science, and being presided over by so amiable and proficient a gentleman, cannot fail to be duly appreciated and patronized by all. Fort Wayne people who are in need of a dentist's services.

"I have only had your goods, Athlophones, in a short time, and can say that in two or three old cases of chronic rheumatism it acted like a charm," druggist Andrew Stone, of Delhi, Iowa, writes in praise of the great unequalled remedy.

A liberal reward will be paid to any person who can give any information of the whereabouts of George Rice, a mute
who ran away from the deaf and dumb asylum at Indianapolis on the 8th day
